Adams, Stepner, Woltermann & Dusing, PLLC Announces New Member

COVINGTON, KY – Adams, Stepner, Woltermann & Dusing, PLLC is pleased to announce that Claire E. Parsons has been named a Member of the firm effective January 1, 2017.

Claire practices in the firm's Government Practice and Commercial Litigation practice groups. She focuses her practice on Civil Rights Litigation, Employment Law, School Law, Special Education and Domestic Relations. Claire has handled all manner of civil rights claims through every stage of litigation. She has successfully defended numerous claims against police officers, jail employees, elected officials, government administrators, and school employees under both Kentucky law and federal civil rights statutes. In her school law practice, Claire provides vital day-to-day guidance for school districts and school officials; she specifically counsels her clients with respect to education of students with disabilities.

Claire has also been active in numerous professional organizations since she began practicing. She was recently selected as the Secretary/Treasurer for the Kentucky Defense Council and has held leadership positions with the Northern Kentucky Chamber Women's Initiative, Northern Kentucky Bar Association, and Kentucky School Board Association Council of School Attorneys. In addition, Claire has authored several articles published by these professional organizations and their national affiliates, including DRI's For the Defense and the National School Board Association's Inquiry and Analysis.

Given her roots in Northern Kentucky, she is committed to serving and improving the community. Claire is a mentor with the Ohio Supreme Court's New Lawyer Mentoring program and an alumnus of the Leadership Northern Kentucky Class of 2015, where she served as Vice-Chair for the successful and innovative NKY Makerspace project. Claire also serves as a member of the Board of Directors for Welcome House and recently led a grassroots donation drive for hygiene items to benefit its shelter. In 2015, Claire was twice honored for her professional success, community involvement, and leadership when she was recognized as an Emerging Leader by the Outstanding Women of Northern Kentucky and received Legacy's Next Generation Leader Award in the Business, Financial, and Legal Services category.

She is a 2005 graduate of the University of Louisville and a 2008 graduate of the University of Louisville Law School.
